

NSF Grant Workshop

The University of West Alabama is hosting a National Science Foundation (NSF) Grant Workshop! This event is designed to assist researchers and institutions in preparing successful NSF grant proposals, encourage participation in NSF's initiative, and broaden participation in STEM and other fields.

Date: 09/05/2024

Time: 9:00 am to 5:00 pm

Location: Pruitt Hall – room 25 - UWA campus, Livingston, AL

What to Expect:

- Learn about NSF's Proposal and Award Policies and Procedures Guide and how to align your proposals with NSF's priorities.
- Discover opportunities within the NSF that can enhance teaching and research activities.
- Feedback from experts on your research or educational proposal ideas.
- Connect with fellow researchers, NSF representatives, and potential collaborators to exchange ideas and build partnerships.
- Participate in discussions and Q&A sessions designed to address the unique challenges and opportunities PUIs face in the STEM landscape.

Whether new to NSF grants or looking to refine your proposal strategies, this workshop is a valuable opportunity to gain insights and enhance your chances of securing funding.
